

Ideal Indoor house plant

Calathea amabilis

Turn your home into a tropical paradise with a Calathea amabilis, known as the Zebra Plant.

When planted indoors, the Calathea's large, colourful and decorative leaves will add a tropical element to your home.

Use potting mix that drains well to prevent overwatering

Keep the soil moist at all times. This will require watering the plant more regularly in the spring and summer months and less frequently in the winter.

Grow your Calathea in a warm, and well-lit area indoors and keep it out of direct sunlight.

Calatheas do not require pruning but removing the brown leaves will help to keep the plant looking beautiful

Feed with liquid or foliar fertilizer every 3 weeks

These plants thrive in humid conditions and may require the leaves to be lightly misted daily.
